

ABSTRACT

The present invention, which can be used with any lossy compression, concerns the selection of images to form a composite image which comprises the selected images, wherein, for at least one of the selected 5 images, lossy compression of the composite image results in an improved compressibility.